Pushing Postal Reform

The plan to take the Post Office out of the pork barrel and place it in the hands of a public corporation received its biggest boost the other day when President Nixon praised the proposal. After describing postal service as inefficient and inadequate, Nixon said:

"Our present postal system is obsolete. It has broken down. It is not what it ought to be for a nation of 200,000,000 people and a nation that will be 300,000,000 within 30 years. Now is the time to act."

With Nixon at San Clemente when he officially endorsed the plan were its three major proponents, Postmaster General Blount, former Postmaster Lawrence O'Brien and Senator Thurston Morton. The latter two are co-chairmen of a citizens group for postal reform. The non-partisan appeal of the proposal is indicated in the fact that both men have been national chairmen of their respective political parties.

The reform plan would give control of the postal service to a nine-member board, seven appointed by the President and two named by the board to act as operating managers. The board would make the basic decisions on rates, personnel, wages and expenditures. Congress now controls the Post Office.

O'Brien, Morton and Blount went to San Clemente to enlist the President's support for a last-minute push for the proposal, which is currently being considered by a House committee. It will probably come up for a vote within two weeks. Postal reformers have run into heavy but expected opposition from postal employee unions, bulk mailers and many congressmen, who have used the Post Office as a dumping ground for political favorites.

Nixon's exhortation that now is the time to act actually comes a little late. The Post Office will operate at a deficit of $1.3 billion this fiscal year. If the reform proposal is adopted, it would take at least five years under the public corporation to erase the deficit. It would undoubtedly take longer to weed out the deadwood and improve service. If it isn't done, the entire system stands a good chance of collapsing. — Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser

Says Split in Demo Party Must Heal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles Matthews, chairman of the state Democratic party, said Thursday that a split in the party caused by the presidential candidacy of George Wallace must be healed if the Democrats are to reclaim the governorship in 1970.

He said the false impression that Wallace supporters must sign a pledge in order to vote in next year's Democratic primaries must be removed. He said past party affiliations would not prohibit a voter from voting in the 1970 party primaries.

Matthews also announced that the state's Democratic congressional delegation would be honored at a statewide rally Nov. 22 at Little Rock's Barton Coliseum.

"In truth, a broad representative base has been the traditional strength of the Democratic party," Matthews said. "It is my hope that the presence of our distinguished Democratic congressional leaders on Nov. 22 will weld this base together in a final drive to return this great state to the people at the Democratic party. Whether we succeed or fail depends on the success of the Nov. 22 rally."

Matthews said the admission will be $10 and that he expects about 5,000 persons.

He said the money will be used by the Democratic State Committee "to replenish its nearly empty coffers, and will be used to continue the final implementation of our organizational activities."

SPACE TRUCK is what this proposed vehicle would amount to. The giant fixed-wing shuttle would carry a satellite into space, send it on its way toward another planet and then dock with a space station in permanent orbit to pick up cargo or men for return to earth. It is one of several concepts of a reusable space shuttle being studied for NASA.

JUST A BITE for the world's largest aircraft, the Air Force's C-5 Galaxy. A 23-ton "cherry-picker" personnel hoist drives into the Lockheed plane and is swallowed up in the cavernous opening. After loading, the landing gear, which had been "kneecled," was raised 34 inches to put the plane at its regular height for take-off.

Egypt Presses Guerrillas for Meet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egypt is pressing guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat to meet with the Lebanese but says Lebanon must give full backing to the Arab fight against Israel.

Al Ahran, Cairo's semi-official newspaper, reported today that a note from the Beirut government had been delivered to Arafat in Damascus seeking his reaction. The contents of the note were not disclosed, but the newspaper said the message could serve to open a dialogue between Lebanon and the guerrillas.

But fruitful talks, the newspaper said, must be preceded by a cease-fire and a guarantee that the Lebanese army would not use negotiations to gain time for a death blow against the guerrillas.

Egypt is trying to mediate the dispute between half-Christian, half-Muslim Lebanon and the Arab guerrillas who want a free hand to use Lebanon as a base for raids against Israel. The Lebanese army has been trying to check the guerrillas, fearing retaliation from Israel.

Mohammed Hassanin Helkal, Al Ahran's editor and frequent spokesman for President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said in an editorial that any solution to the current crisis would be temporary at best.

The crux of the crisis, he said, is not the confrontation between the Lebanese army and the guerrillas but Lebanon's internal conflict caused by the "current sharp polarization in the Arab-Israeli dispute."

After the 1967 war, Helkal said, "Lebanon tried to resume life as usual . . . but it is doubtful whether any Arab country can actually stay away from the next inevitable Arab-Israeli collision."

Special Spa Election

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Hot Springs City Clerk J. H. Smith said Thursday that he had verified more than enough signatures on petitions to force the calling of a special election on a controversial sewer service charge increase.

The City Council approved the charge which would equal a six-month winter water charge. It was to have taken effect Nov. 1, but the council recently postponed the effective date of the charge.

State Praised for Voluntary Desegregation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A report from the director of the Civil Rights Office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare praises Arkansas for the degree of voluntary compliance with school desegregation guidelines.

"Arkansas has consistently been one of the states from which we obtained a large number of acceptable voluntary desegregation plans," said Leon Panetta, director of the Civil Rights Office.

He said eight school districts had a problem with white students transferring into neighboring districts to avoid desegregation. He identified the districts as Washington, Desha, Phillips and Chicot counties, Wheatley, Linwood, Parkdale and Emerson. Panetta suggested that the state Education Department urge the districts to stop the practice.

Panetta also said a "unique situation" existed in four school districts that were involved in litigation but that were not under final court orders to desegregate. He listed the districts as Grady, Portland, Star City and Dermott, but did not explain the "situation."

Rules Inquest Be Secret in Kennedy Case

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court has ruled that an inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne must be held in secret, as requested by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

But in their decision Thursday the five justices declined to disqualify Judge James A. Boyle of the Edgartown District Court from presiding at the inquest.

The ruling left Boyle free to set a new date for the inquest—originally scheduled to begin Sept. 3—and he told newsmen he would do so after studying the Supreme Court ruling.

In addition to throwing out Kennedy's contention that Boyle should not preside, the justices rejected arguments by attorneys for the senator that the state inquest law is unconstitutional.

They upheld Boyle's directive that while lawyers for witnesses could be present while their clients were testifying, they could not cross-examine witnesses—a privilege Kennedy counsel had demanded.

The justices said the transcript of the secret inquest proceedings would be made public only if the inquest established that no criminal proceedings were called for, or after any chance of criminal prosecution had ended.

Sen. Kennedy said in reply to a newsmen's question after the Supreme Court ruling was handed down:

"It is my understanding the record will be made available to the public and I am pleased that it will."

He said he hoped the inquest would be held quickly "so I can get on with representing the people of Massachusetts."

The purpose of the inquest is to determine the legal cause of Miss Kopechne's death. Her body was found in the senator's car, submerged in a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island, on July 19. A medical examiner ruled that she drowned.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis, who ordered the inquiry, said he had no comment in the court ruling.

In its decision the court said it recognized the contention of Kennedy's lawyers that Miss Kopechne's death and resultant proceedings had led to worldwide publicity.

"The difficulties presented," the court commented, "are not lessened by the circumstance that the petitioner Kennedy's own resort to television may itself have increased public interest in the events of July 18, 1969, and the public demand for a more complete investigation and explanation of those events."

Explaining its decision to bar press and public, the Supreme Court said:

"If the proceedings are public, the activities of the news media may be such as to make it difficult if not impossible for a long time to insure to a defendant a fair trial in any criminal proceedings which may follow the inquest."

Kennedy drove his car off the side of a narrow, rillless bridge on Chappaquiddick Island, off Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard. He escaped, but the body of Miss Kopechne, 28, a former secretary for Kennedy's late brother Robert, was found in the car the next morning.

Integration Ordered In Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court has ordered new desegregation proposals filed by Nov. 5 for 33 Mississippi school districts—the first step toward the immediate integration ordered by the Supreme Court.

The directive Friday by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was in obedience to the high court's landmark ruling eliminating the "all deliberate speed" doctrine and ordering an immediate end to racially segregated school systems.

In New York, the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund announced it will seek immediate extension of the new ruling to about 100 pending school desegregation cases.

Jack Greenberg, the fund's director-counsel, said he found President Nixon's statement that he will enforce the Supreme Court decision "somewhat encouraging" but that it should be more emphatic.

"The government should issue a statement to the effect that the law will be promptly and vigorously enforced and that the full resources of the Department of Justice will be turned to implementation," he said.

The new 5th Circuit Court of Appeals order canceled its earlier ruling which had granted the Nixon administration's request that desegregation plans for the Mississippi districts be delayed until Dec. 1.

It was this delay which Greenberg and the fund appealed, winning a reversal.

The 5th Circuit said Judge Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta would replace Chief Judge John R. Brown of Houston on the three-judge panel presiding in the case.

Other panel members are Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin, Tex., and Lewis R. Morgan of Newnan, Ga.

In Jackson, Mississippi Atty. Gen. A. F. Summer said the state would try to have the issue referred to an en banc consideration—that is, by all 14 of the circuit's judges rather than by the usual three-judge panel.

Poison Bullets at Arsenal at Pine Bluff

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was reported Thursday that more than 20,000 poison bullets had been produced and stockpiled at the Pine Bluff, Ark., Arsenal.

A memorandum prepared in 1966 by Chemical Corps officers for Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor said that thousands of the bullets had been produced and stockpiled at Pine Bluff.

There is no evidence that the bullets have been used and it is not known whether the poison bullets are still being produced by the United States.

Defense Department personnel, however, have indicated that the bullets still are stockpiled at Pine Bluff.

Revised Key Card Plan at University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Board of Trustees will consider a revised version of the women's card-key proposal today at Fayetteville.

The board rejected the original proposal Sept. 27 on a 5-4 vote.

The card-key device is inserted into the electronic lock on the doors of the women's residence halls and sorority houses. Under the current plan, only senior women and coeds over 21 who have their parents' permission and at least a C average may use the cards.

The revised proposal extends the privilege to junior women who meet the same requirements. The earlier proposal would have given the key to both junior and sophomore women and did not include the requirements for parental permission or specific grade-point averages.

The Way to Become a Fine Cook Is To Try Recipes of a Fine One

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

People are remembered for many reasons.

A little woman named Cordelia (Mrs. Claude Tillery) was often seen taking banana bread to the home of a friend, when she, her husband and son resided in Hope. After they moved to Texas a few years ago, many were fortunate enough to retain her recipe. For those who didn't, here it is:

Banana Nut Bread
1 c. sugar
1/2 c. shortening
2 eggs
3 large ripe bananas (mashed)
2 c. bread flour, 1 t. soda (sifted together)
1/2 c. pecans, chopped (optional)

Mix in order given and bake in 1 large or 2 small well-greased loaf pans in a 325 degree oven, about 1 hour for small loaf and 1 hr., 15 min. for large loaf. Remove from pan when done.

Even the most inexperienced cooks find this one easy. If there is a question in your mind because no amount of salt is given, don't worry. The omission was intentional.

Sometimes substitutes need to be made because of ingredients on hand. This happened to yours truly when making this recipe once, and a former Home Demonstration Agent solved my problem.

$72,800 Goes to Nobel Prize Winner

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — How does a scientist celebrate winning a $72,800 Nobel Prize?

If he's Murray Gell-Mann, he goes to an office party.

Gell-Mann, 40, and greying, won the 1969 Nobel Prize in physics Thursday for his work in classifying elementary particles, of which there are more than 100 in the nucleus of an atom.

Anyone expert in such an abstruse business might be expected to say "harrumph," don a white coat and duck back into his laboratory.

Not Gell-Mann, a dapper professor of physics at California Institute of Technology.

He started the day by failing to be grumpy when awakened at 3:30 a.m. with news that he had been chosen for the award by the Royal Swedish Academy of Science.

Then he went to a news conference, where he graciously tried to explain to a largely non-scientific audience just what elementary particles are: "the building blocks of matter—in size about a hundred millionth of a millionth of an inch."

He excused himself early, saying he didn't want to upstage Dr. Harold Brown, who was also simultaneously being inaugurated as the president of Caltech.

Then Gell-Mann sat through a speech-loaded inauguration day luncheon with his wife Margaret.

Finally, almost an hour late, he showed up at a congratulatory party arranged by fellow researchers, graduate students and secretaries in a plush conference room of a new $3-million physics laboratory.

Champagne bottles began to pop. Soon there were six marks on the ceiling, left by corks from bottles of a 1959 French brut.

As the final "pop" sounded, someone cried: "There goes a quark." There was no need in that gathering to explain that quark is Gell-Mann's name for an elementary particle that he says ought to exist but which no one has yet detected.

Great fun was had by all but the party ended shortly, with Gell-Mann departing for a television interview.

The day closed with Gell-Mann heading homeward to share with his wife, their daughter Lisa, 13, and son Nicholas, 6, the honors of what he called "the most splendid day of my life."

hard on top, and we wanted to use this left-over portion but the question was, "How?"

One tablespoon of water and 1/4 teaspoon of baking powder substitutes nicely for the missing egg white. This, plus 1 egg yolk and 1 whole egg equals two eggs. Surprised? So were we.

Hijacker Is Caught After 6,900 Miles

ROME (AP) — The youth who carried out history's longest air hijacking—from California to Rome—was captured in a country church today nearly five hours after the plane landed in Rome. The man was seen in handcuffs by an Associated Press newsmen on the scene.

ROME (AP) — The hijacker who forced a Trans World Airlines jet to fly from California to Rome was spotted and surrounded by police today in a hilltop vineyard in the Roman countryside, the Italian national news agency Ansa reported.

The agency said a police helicopter saw a man they identified as the hijacker, Vietnam war hero Raphael Minichiello, move around occasionally in the fenced-in vineyard, his carbine still in his hand.

The hill is about six miles outside Rome.

Police earlier had announced the hijacker had been captured, then announced the first report was erroneous. An editor of Ansa said it was believed the police had actually "captured" a huntsman.

The news agency report that the hijacker had been surrounded was confirmed later by police.

The gunman was found in the Sanctuary of Divine Love near the Appian Way, shortly before 500 policemen were about to give up searching the area.

Police officials had said a short time before the apprehension that the man apparently had eluded them.

He was taken out of the church wearing a white shirt and blue trousers.

The hijacker, identified as Vietnam war hero Raphael Minichiello, had been seen moving around in the area early, the carbine still in his hand, police said.

When he was spotted, reinforcements were called in from neighboring areas as 500 men sought the youth, who had commandeered the plane for a 6,900-mile, five-stage journey across the United States, the Atlantic Ocean and Western Europe.

Minneapolis Mayor Brings Law, Order

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Charles Stenvig, a policeman for almost 14 years, leaned back in his green mayor's chair and talked about his advisers.

"I get ridiculed for saying this," he said, and raised his right index finger slowly skyward. "Up there's the big one."

But few people, even those skeptical of Stenvig's heavenly connections, are ridiculing Stenvig now—certainly not the 62 per cent of the voters who elected him law and order mayor of Minneapolis June 10.

Some are outraged but few are laughing.

Stenvig's supporters were drawn largely from the 50 per cent of the population that is blue collar working class—a voting bloc that fears God, worries about street crime and admires the city's policemen.

"They know we are the thin blue line," said Det. Richard M. Nelson.

It's the kind of built-in voting bloc that's encouraging policemen throughout the nation to plunge more deeply into politics.

Stenvig, 41, may disappoint them.

Arabs Attack At Lebanese Crosspoint

By DENNIS NEEDLE
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT (AP) — Arab guerrillas attacked the Min Gaba-nese border crosspoint to Syria today, and fighting was still raging after five hours, witnesses reported. There were no immediate casualty reports.

Lebanese troops answered small-arms fire with artillery and tanks, a customs officer at the post said. He said the tanks concentrated their fire on hilltops ringing the post at Masnaa, located on the Beirut-Damascus highway. He said the guerrillas were believed massed in the hills.

Meanwhile Lebanese negotiators in Cairo were preparing a peace proposal and hoped to get guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat to enter into peace talks.

Tension was high in a Palestinian refugee camp in Beirut as refugees threatened to revolt if the Lebanese army did not hand over the bodies of two guerrillas killed in earlier clashes with the army. Troops surrounded the compound.

Friday night, Arab guerrillas claimed they captured three Lebanese villages with the help of civilian sympathizers.

Palestine radio said the villages of Mashta Hassan, Matta Hammoud and Shadra fell after a 14-hour fight with Lebanese army troops. It said the guerrillas were supported by "angry popular masses comprising all classes."

The Lebanese army said only that a guerrilla attack on Mashta Hassan had been beaten back.

The Cairo newspaper Al-Gumhuriya said guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat arrived secretly in Cairo Friday night to take part in peace talks, but there was no confirmation of the report from Lebanese or Egyptian officials.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, who is acting as go-between in the two-week-old conflict, met Friday with Gen. Emile Bustani, Lebanese army chief of staff and head of the Lebanese delegation. Bustani has been in Cairo since Tuesday.

The official Middle East News Agency said in Cairo that President Charles Helou of Lebanon has agreed to a cease-fire proposal put forward by Deputy Premier Mehdi Ammash of Iraq. But it did not say when a cease-fire might go into effect.

Informed sources said Beirut is willing to let the guerrillas operate inside Lebanon as long as the country's security is not threatened. The government has tried to keep a tight rein on guerrilla activities to ward off Israeli reprisals.

Israel has said it will continue to retaliate against Lebanon for Lebanon-based guerrilla raids against Israel.

Elsewhere in the Middle East, the Israeli army said its patrols killed 11 infiltrators in two clashes in the occupied Jordan valley today.

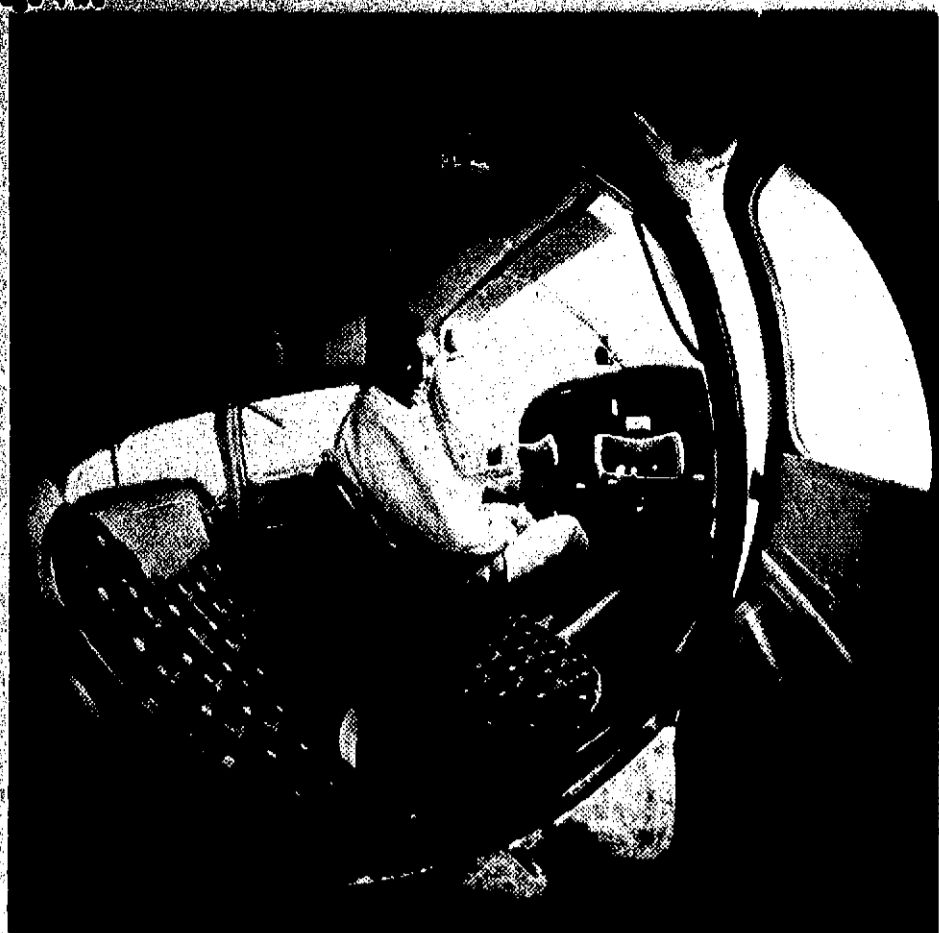

Two Minor Accidents Investigated

Two minor accidents were investigated Thursday by City Police, the first at Third and Main involving cars driven by Mrs. Noralee May and Mrs. Dayton Thomason. Only minor damage resulted and no charges were filed by Officer Clark.

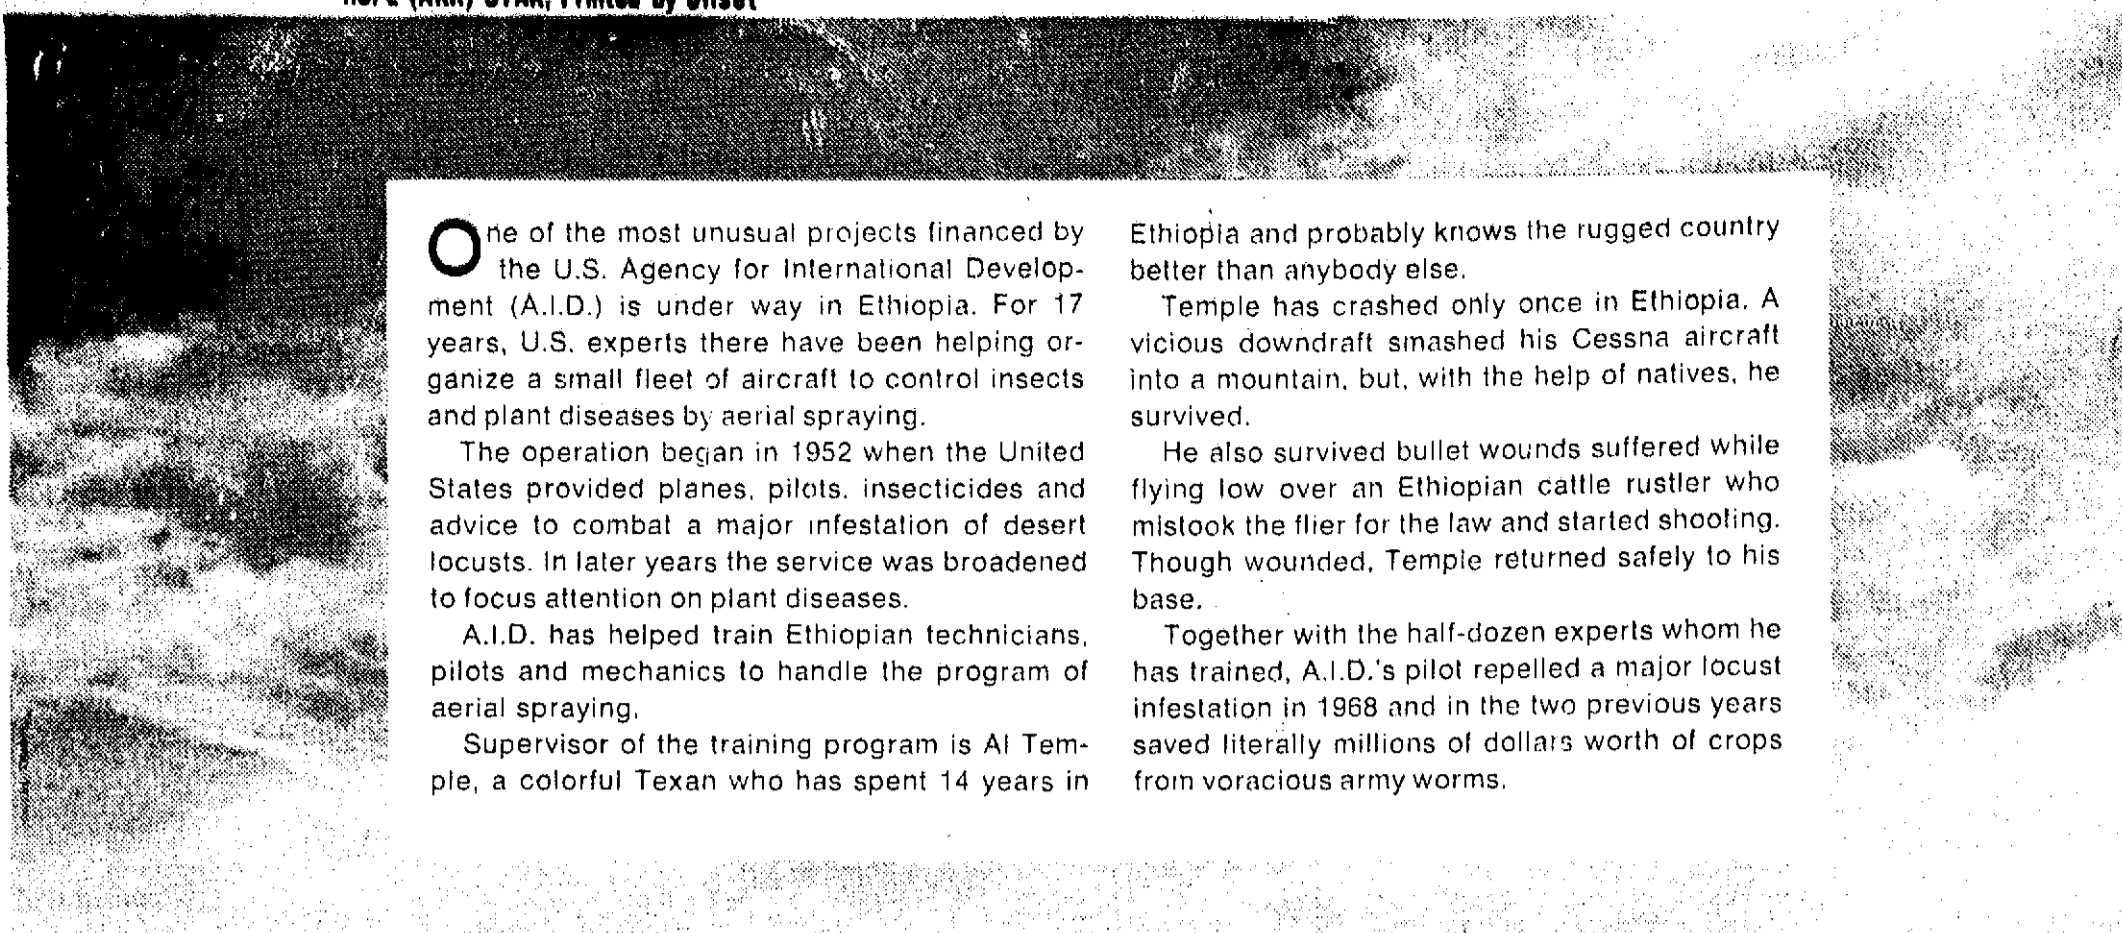

In the 1500 block on S. Hervey cars driven by Mrs. H.E. Thrash and Mrs. Joyce McRoy collided. There was only minor damage and no charges, City Policeman Sinyard said.

Light Frost Recorded For Season Low

A light but non-killing frost was reported by the Experimental Station for Friday night and early Saturday morning with a low reading of 34 degrees.

Al Temple, veteran pilot.

One of the most unusual projects financed by the U.S. Agency for International Development (A.I.D.) is under way in Ethiopia. For 17 years, U.S. experts there have been helping organize a small fleet of aircraft to control insects and plant diseases by aerial spraying.

The operation began in 1952 when the United States provided planes, pilots, insecticides and advice to combat a major infestation of desert locusts. In later years the service was broadened to focus attention on plant diseases.

A.I.D. has helped train Ethiopian technicians, pilots and mechanics to handle the program of aerial spraying.

Supervisor of the training program is Al Temple, a colorful Texan who has spent 14 years in Ethiopia and probably knows the rugged country better than anybody else.

Temple has crashed only once in Ethiopia. A vicious downdraft smashed his Cessna aircraft into a mountain, but, with the help of natives, he survived.

He also survived bullet wounds suffered while flying low over an Ethiopian cattle rustler who mistook the flier for the law and started shooting. Though wounded, Temple returned safely to his base.

Together with the half-dozen experts whom he has trained, A.I.D.'s pilot repelled a major locust infestation in 1968 and in the two previous years saved literally millions of dollars worth of crops from voracious army worms.

This Day in Court Got Very Hectic

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) - The prosecutor says he feels like a character from "Alice in Wonderland." A defendant, bound and gagged, shouts muffled words at the jury. A federal judge is repeatedly called a "racist, fascist pig."
Two lawyers have been jailed temporarily. The defendants hold regular noon hour news conferences. A Viet Cong flag, a birthday cake for a defendant and a box of jelly beans have been spread over the defense table.

Fiction? No, it's the U.S. District Court trial of eight men charged with violating the anti-riot provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. Specifically, they are charged with conspiring to cross state lines with the intent to incite riots during last year's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.
The bizarre proceedings that often occur in the large, wood-paneled courtroom on the 23rd floor of the U.S. courthouse frequently begin with a flamboyant entrance by the long-haired defendants.

They arrive in eccentric dress, whispering and giggling. They embrace Bobby G. Seale, the jailed Black Panther leader. Wednesday, the spotlight was on Seale, the only defendant not free on bond. He is lodged in the Cook County jail each night on a fugitive warrant from New Haven, Conn., where he is charged with murder.
Since Oct. 22, Seale has sporadically interrupted the trial with demands that he be permitted to conduct his own defense.

His remarks often include calling Judge Julius J. Hoffman "a blatant racist, a racist pig and a racist, fascist pig."
Judge Hoffman, 74, a tiny, wrinkled man with steel-rimmed glasses and a reputation as a law scholar, has just as persistently threatened to have Seale bound and gagged.

It happened Wednesday. Seale was physically restrained by marshals twice during the morning session. When he interrupted the judge at the start of SEAL OF THE PROBLEM is that she's too short (4 foot-10) for the table. Roshan McCarthy found a solution with a set of telephone directories during a session of England's Liberal party.

the afternoon session, Judge Hoffman ordered a marshal to take Seale into another room and "deal with him as he should be dealt with."

Minutes later, Seale, manacled to a metal folding chair and gagged with a white cloth that flapped over his shoulders like a scarf, was returned to the courtroom.

During arguments between defense lawyer William M. Kunstler and U.S. Atty. Thomas A. Foran, Seale shouted through his gag, "Sit down, Kunstler, you don't represent me!"

Judge Hoffman called a marshal aside and told him the gag wasn't working effectively. A brief recess was called and again Seale was returned to the courtroom in manacles, but this time layers of adhesive tape were added to the gag.

Judge Hoffman explained to the jury of 10 women and two men that the "steps were taken to insure a fair trial."

By the end of the session, Seale had worked the gag loose enough for his muffled demands to be heard. He also rattled the chains against the chair and Judge Hoffman hurriedly excused the jury.

The jury in this trial must be used to this by now.

Arguments between Judge Hoffman and defense lawyers, outbursts by Seale, and antics by other defendants have often sent the jurors scurrying from the courtroom at the judge's order.

During the introduction of the defendants to the jury, Thomas E. Hayden, 30, an architect of the Students For a Democratic Society, stood and shook a clenched fist at the jurors.

"Excuse the jury," Judge Hoffman shouted.

"That was only my usual greeting," Hayden said.

"There will be no fist shaking in this courtroom," Hoffman admonished.

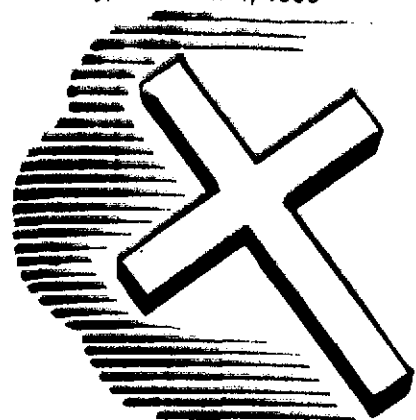

Hoffman has rejected most of the defense motions, including requests for a one-day adjournment for the defendants to participate in Moratorium Day and permission to give Seale a birthday cake.

He also sustained just about every prosecution motion or objection, including one at the start of the trial which asked that four lawyers from New York and California be subpoenaed.

the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Whether of wood, or gold, or other material, The Cross is symbolic of our highest living. It tells of both sacrifice and life at its best. It is a symbol of God, a symbol of Christ, a symbol of the Christian church you attend every week. What would the church be without The Cross! Where might your steps lead were you to forget the Crucifixion! What might happen to your family and to the families of all your friends were it not for the influence of the allumined Cross in their lives. If you would have tomorrow remember you; if you would have your golden years filled with peace and hope ... then Keep The Cross Before You Every Day.

Says Judge's Mistakes of No Consequence
By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee majority that approve Clement F. Haynsworth's Supreme Court nomination admits the federal appeals judge made mistakes, but insists they were of no consequence.
In a report prepared for them by the Justice Department to explain their votes in sending the nomination to the floor, the 10 pro-Haynsworth committee members say the South Carolina jurist "is extraordinarily well qualified" despite opposition from labor unions, civil rights groups and others.
Point by point, the report takes up objections raised to Haynsworth's nomination to the court seat left vacant by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas last May.
They contend Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals, has shown "evenhandedness, craftsmanship and scholarship" that would be of benefit to the highest court in the land.
The report, which has not been officially released, leaked out as opponents counted "a fairly solid" 55 votes against Haynsworth's confirmation and 45 votes in favor—including Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., still uncommitted publicly.
The seven committee members who voted against Haynsworth have yet to draw up a report outlining objections to the nomination, but they are expected to do so within two weeks.
Perhaps the most significant point made in the majority's draft report involved Haynsworth's admission he bought $16,000 worth of stock in the Brunswick Corp. while a case involving the firm was still before his court.

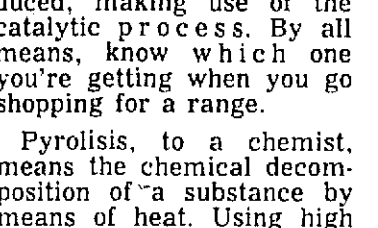

PERSONAL FINANCE
By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT
The housewife about to buy a new kitchen stove has to heed the Wall Street motto of prudence. "Investigate before you invest," because modern technology is complicating the oven far beyond the way things were in grandmother's day—the cast iron age.
Six years ago—in the fall of 1963—the first self-cleaning oven was unveiled. Housewives by the thousands have welcomed it with glad cries, as their deliverance from one of the kitchen's most odious chores. But today there are two kinds of self-cleaning ovens, and before making the major investment that a stove represents today (prices of the fancier models are nearing $1,000), you need a short course in oven technology.

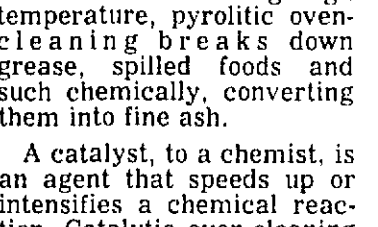

Pyrolysis, to a chemist, means the chemical decomposition of a substance by means of heat. Using high temperature, pyrolytic oven-cleaning breaks down grease, spilled foods and such chemically, converting them into fine ash.
A catalyst, to a chemist, is an agent that speeds up or intensifies a chemical reaction. Catalytic oven-cleaning makes use of a catalyst—in the form of a coating bonded to the oven walls—that intensifies the process of oxidation so that decomposition of oven soil can take place at a lower temperature.
In fact, when the catalyst is used, ordinary baking temperatures are sufficient to cause the oxidation. Oven walls are therefore, theoretically, being cleaned whenever the oven is in normal use, and it's therefore called "continuous cleaning" by some stove makers.
Pyrolytic cleaning, which uses just plain heat and nothing more, requires a temperature of about 750 degrees, compared to a normal top heat in the oven, when broiling, of around 650. There's a separate setting on the oven control for "clean," and the extra-high temperature has to be maintained for periods of up to 2 1/2 hours.
Manufacturers using the pyrolytic method have lashed out at users of the catalytic method with charges that it does an inefficient half-job:
• Catalytic coatings are rough and porous, and oven soil soaks in and imbeds, never getting completely oxidized.
• The coatings are easily scratched and gouged and have to be cleaned with care, using special implements. Because of this fragility, the coating is not used at present on racks or broilers or, in some stoves, on the oven floor or the door and window. A good deal of the oven in such stoves, therefore, still has to be hand-cleaned.
Manufacturers using the catalytic method reply that the "half-job" charge is nonsense, that oven walls are "acceptably clean," even though complete oxidation hasn't occurred.

West's two-spade overcall is not recommended. If North had doubled, West would have been held to six tricks and paid a 500-point penalty. North chose to bid three no-trump and West was punished even more severely.

He opened the 10 of spades. His partner covered with the jack. When you hold a singleton, you have to play it.

If West had not overcalled with two spades, South would almost surely have won the trick with the queen. In fact, he would have been happy to get that trick in.

As it was, South almost played the queen. Then he stopped and thought for some time. He knew West pretty well. West liked to bid but West wasn't an idiot. In fact, West was a pretty good bridge player. Would West have overcalled vulnerable with only a five-card suit headed by king-10-nine? South didn't think so. In fact, it seemed pretty certain that West had a six-card suit, plus both red aces.

South then saw that, if he had time to knock out both aces, he would score two hearts, two diamonds and four clubs. Then he would need only one spade trick to make his contract.

South let East hold that first trick. East couldn't return a spade and led a heart. West was in with the ace and saw no point in playing a second spade. He knew he was dead but saw no reason to give South any more than he had to, so West led a heart back. South won and knocked out the ace of diamonds. Once more West got out by leading a diamond back and eventually had the doubtful satisfaction of making his king of spades and holding South to his contract. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
? You, South, hold:
A A K 8 7 6 ♥ A 2 ♦ 3 ♣ A K 7 5 4
What is your opening bid?
A—Bid one club. Your hand is so strong that you want to be sure to get a second bid but is not strong enough for a two opening. A club opening is just never passed out by anyone.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You do open one club and your partner responds one spade. What do you do now?

Bobcats Claw Panthers 19-7 For Seventh Win Of Season

Hope Comes From Behind For Victory

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

It's getting better all the time. The Hope Bobcats, stymied for a half, roared from behind to squelch the Camden Panthers 19-7 on a muddy field last night at Camden's Coleman Stadium.

For the second time Hope spoiled someone's Homecoming (earlier the Cats disappointed Malvern 21-6) while moving to a 7-2 record for the season. But the biggest upset was Magnolia's 14-8 bouncing of cocky Fairview last evening, throwing 4-AA's races into a bigger turmoil. Camden fell to 6-3 for the year.

Actually, it was an upset since Camden was favored by two touchdowns, but statistically the Bobcats commanded the game from the first. Hope's defense pushed the Panthers down from 80 total yards at the half to 79 at the end, after the Cats trailed 7-0 at the midway mark.

With the opening kickoff Hope moved to midfield on a 20-yard sweep by Artis Martin, who immediately thereafter fumbled and the Panthers recovered.

Forced to punt, Camden's Gordon Parham lofted a high one to the Hope 13, where Bobcat Lee Davis lost connections and possession to the Panthers at the 15.

It took them six plays to score, before tailback Thomas Dansby pushed across from the two with 7:06 left in the quarter. Dansby then kicked the PAT, giving Camden the 7-0 lead it held for a good while.

Neither team could sustain much for the remainder of the quarter, before Hope got off its first real drive. Fullback Gary Jones popped 37 yards to the Camden 49, then Martin galloped 25 more to the 18.

With a first down at the 12 after a pass interference infraction on Camden after a fourth-down incompletion, the Cats moved to the 'five' in two plays. The Panther defense tightened to the middle, and two passes were stopped to thwart the advance at the ten.

The half ended on that note, with Hope leading the total yardage statistics 123-80 but trailing 7-0 to an inspired bunch of Panthers up for their Homecoming.

Camden maintained its momentum with the second half kickoff, starting from their 41. They had to punt after getting one first down, but the Panthers maintained great field position while keeping Hope shoved back deep in the Bobcats' territory.

The comeback started when Cat Lee Davis returned a punt 17 yards to the Camden 45, and a fourth-down gamble produced a first and ten from the 35. Still the Panthers forced a third and 15 from the 40, and QB Ronnie Massanelli rolled to pass.

Throwing crossfield, Massanelli hit Davis at the 30, and the 170-pound senior high-stepped his way to the end zone for the opening Hope points with 1:37 left in the third period. Trailing 7-6 the Cats ran for a two-point conversion, but Massanelli was stopped short and the score was unchanged.

Starting from their 20, Camden got a first down at the 32 to end the quarter, but were stopped after that and punted from the 22. Artis Martin returned four yards to the Hope 38 with 10:47 left, and Hope went to work.

A clipping penalty created a first and 23 from the 25, but Jones swept the left side for 11 yards. Now Massanelli twice went back to throw, saw daylight and recorded the two most crucial gains of the drive.

Ronnie's first journey went 14 yards for a first down at midfield, then he darted 18 more to the Panther 32 with 9:18 showing. Martin blasted for nine to the 23, then Massanelli hit Davis wide open on the sideline at the seven for a first and goal.

From the four it was Artis Martin whipping into the end zone, and Hope had the lead for the first time. Running for two points, though, Massanelli was stopped inches short and the Cats only led 12-7 with 8:02 on the board.

Camden later fumbled at their 34, with Bobcat Rusty Quillin recovering, but Hope was held on downs at the 25. The Panthers then punted, and pushed the Cats back to a punt at the 38 with two minutes to go.

They deflected David Still's kick and Camden took over at its 48 with still a fighting chance. On second down Parham dropped back and threw to HB Bill Jordan in the flat, but this time Bobcat Ronny Brown was there for the interception.

They caught Brown at the ten, but on third down Artis Martin went over from three yards out with 20 seconds showing. Brown added the kick, and the 19-7 tally was assured when Bobcat Calvin Willis jumped on the following on-sides kick.

Martin ran 25 times for 122 yards to lead both teams, but Gary Jones had a fine night with 11 carries for 84 yards. Massanelli also added 30 more on six plays, and Lee Davis caught three passes for 58 yards. Dansby ran nine times for 24 yards to pace the Panthers.

All in all, it was the fumbles and interception in the second half, added with the Bobcats' big-play offense, which meant victory on a night when the defenses reigned and Hope's was better.

That will bring on Camden Lincoln, who fought hard before losing 12-6 last night at Smackover. Lincoln is 1-7 for the year and is the 4-AA West doormat this year, but they will surely provide a good enough test for the Cats before the final duo against Nashville on Homecoming and the finale at Arkadelphia.

On Monday evening the "B" Lizards return to play, traveling to Texarkana to face the Arkansas High Razorbacks at 7:30 p.m. They stand 1-5 for the season, but have improved with each game in some close losses.

But Friday night belongs to the Bobcats.

Wolves Blast DeQueen For 28-6 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PRESCOTT, Ark. (Special) — Two touchdowns on long runs by Joe Johnson picked up the Prescott Curley Wolves here Friday night and pushed the Prescott team to a 28-6 victory over their District 7-A foes, the DeQueen Leopards.

Johnson scored in the second period on a 30-yard sweep around right end and then in the third period rambled 39 yards off tackle to paydirt.

Prescott scored first in the game in the first period when Tim Grimes powered into the end zone on a five-yard plunge. Stewart Freeland kicked the extra point after Grimes' TD and also kicked extra points after three other Prescott touchdowns.

DeQueen managed to put six points on the board in the fourth period when Dick Vanbeber brushed into the end zone from four yards away. The extra point attempt failed as the Leopards attempted to run it across.

On the following kickoff, DeQueen attempted an offside kick but the ball fell into Prescott hands at the DeQueen 46. On the next play from scrimmage, Prescott quarterback Sandy Gautsche hurled a 46-yard pass to Mike Payne for six more Prescott points. Freeland completed the scoring for the evening with a good PAT kick.

Prescott, 4-4 for the year, is now 4-0 in District 7-A gridiron action while DeQueen now holds a 2-3 loop record.

Oakland Has Record 15 Game Streak

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unbeaten Oakland Raiders will have one eye on the record book and the other on quarterback Greg Cook when they meet the young Cincinnati Bengals Sunday.

The Raiders beat San Diego 24-12 last week and equalled the American Football League record of 15 consecutive games without a loss. Oakland now has a chance to move past 15 in a final assault on the record, set almost a decade ago by the early Los Angeles San Diego Chargers. Oakland is 6-0-1, the latter figure representing a 20-20 tie with Miami and leads Kansas City by 1/2 game in the Western Division.

Bengals' Coach Paul Brown says Cook, the sensational rookie quarterback, will definitely play against Oakland after seeing only limited action in one of the Bengals' last four games because of a muscle injury in his throwing arm.

The Bengals led off the season with victories over Miami and San Diego and then upset Kansas City. Cook was injured in the first half of the Kansas City game. Since then, the Bengals have lost four straight.

In other AFL games Miami, 1-5-1, faces the World Champion New York Jets, 5-2, at New York. Houston, 4-3, is at Boston, 0-7; Kansas City, 6-1, at Buffalo, 2-5; and San Diego, 4-3, at Denver, 3-4.

In the National Football League, Los Angeles is at Atlanta, Dallas at Cleveland, Chicago at Minnesota, Detroit at San Francisco, New Orleans at St. Louis, Green Bay at Pittsburgh, Washington at Baltimore, and the New York Giants host Philadelphia.

If you hurry, you can get a plane for summer times just in time to experience bad weather while the rest of us enjoy a pleasant early winter at home.

Dallas Leads Capitol Div. With 6 Wins

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The redoubtable Dallas Cowboys, hoping to build a mountain out of a hill, climb the tortuous terrain of Cleveland Brown country in the top National Football League game Sunday.

Classy Calvin Hill leads the NFL in rushing and the Cowboys are counting on that man from Yale to lead them all the way to their first league championship.

Dallas, 6-0, tops the Capitol Division and Cleveland, 4-1-1, the Century, in the NFL's weakest Conference. Sunday's game shapes up as a preview of the Eastern title game.

Two other key games highlight Sunday's card—Chicago, 0-6, at Minnesota, 5-1 and Los Angeles, 6-0, at Atlanta, 2-4. Both Los Angeles, leader of the Coastal Division, and Minnesota, front-running the Ventral, could put a stranglehold on their divisions by following form.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia, 2-4, visits New York, 3-3; Washington, 4-1-1, is at Baltimore, 3-3; Pittsburgh, 1-5, hosts Green Bay, 4-2; Detroit, 3-3, visits San Francisco, 1-4-1, and St. Louis, 2-3-1, is at home to New Orleans, 0-6.

In the American Football League Sunday, Oakland plays at Cincinnati Miami is at New York, Houston visits Boston, Kansas City is at Buffalo, and Denver hosts San Diego.

Hill, the Cowboys' bread-and-butter ball carrier in his rookie year, has churned out 496 yards. But if Cleveland manages to gobble him up, the Browns still must contend with the league's third leading rusher—Walt Garrison, who has 378 yards.

Cleveland quarterback Bill Nelsen would like to get plenty of protection against Dallas' Big Rush. The Browns have allowed opposing linemen to get to their passer only six times this season, and the Cowboys lead the league in nailing the quarterback with 30 nabs for a minus 250 yards.

Minnesota, sailing along in the euphoria of a club record five straight victories, will probably find Chicago their kind of team. The Vikings, with quarterback Joe Kapp in full control, should have a piece of cake in the clawless Bears. Last time they met three weeks ago, Minnesota won 31-0.

Los Angeles is going for its seventh victory in as many games against Atlanta, and the Rams' 9-7 squeaker over Chicago last week is no indication of their scoring potential. Quarterback Roman Gabriel, one of the best, should find the Falcons easy victims.

Series Hero Clendenon Delights In Having the 'Problems' He Has

By IRA BERKOW,
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Donn Clendenon said he was on Cloud Nine and then leaned back in the Cloud's leather bucket driver's seat while photographers tried to capture for eternity the gleam in his big brown eyes.

The Cloud's name was Dodge Challenger R T and it was afloat in the parking lot of Mamma Leone's restaurant. It was Clendenon's reward for being selected by Sport magazine as Hero One of the World Series.

"Will you keep that car or will you order another color?" he was asked.

"What other colors are there?" asked Clendenon, the New York Met first baseman.

Close-at-hand was the Dodge representative, and he said proudly, "This one is Go-Mango. But we also have Plum-Crazy, and Hemi-Orange and"—warming up—"Top Banana and"—savoring this one dramatically—"Sub-Lime."

"I'll think about it until I get home to Atlanta," said Clendenon, tastefully.

And who at the end of last year or the beginning of this one or even into the middle of September would have dreamed that Donn Clendenon would, in October, 1969, be mulling such a problem? Certainly not Donn Clendenon.

Last year at this time he was contemplating two recent developments. One was that he had been selected by the Montreal Expos in the expansion draft and would be leaving the Pittsburgh Pirates, the only team he had played for in his seven-year major league career. The other thought, also disheartening, was the National League batting record he had set in 1968: most strikeouts in a single season (163).

He was beginning to think that, at 33 years of age, maybe his skills had diminished to such a point that he should step out of baseball and into the Scripto Company, the Atlanta pen firm in which he held an executive position in off-season. "At my age," he said, "your playing days are at a minimum, and not a maximum as when you're a kid."

But he was going to go to Montreal, anyway, until Montreal traded him to Houston. He quit baseball, to go into penmanship full time. "I see the day," he said, "when industry will raid athletics and steal the top sports stars. The stars know that industry can provide similar financial benefits and satisfactions, and for 25, 30, 35 more years."

But Bowie Kuhn, the strong baseball commissioner, and there?" asked Clendenon, the New York Met first baseman.

Mike Phipps Puts Team First

NEW YORK—(NEA)—On the day Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps was named the nation's back of the week for an outstanding Saturday of passing, his teammate, tight end Ashley Bell, saw him between classes and congratulated him.

"I threw 'em," said Phipps, "but you caught 'em."

Mike Phipps is a senior majoring in industrial economics and has been on the dean's list and has made the all-Big Ten Academic team and he has learned something about psychology in between the galaxy of numbers in the classroom and on the football field.

When it is announced that Mike Phipps is the nation's collegiate leader in total offense, averaging something like eight yards per play, Mike Phipps says immediately, "It was the team, not just me. I know and they know that if they do a good job, then I do a good job."

"And we've been doing a good job. That's why we're off to a quick start when we weren't supposed to have anything."

Phipps understands that, as the team leader, he is much responsible for keeping the team as one. A team must stay together to play together. It would be quickly divisive if Phipps kept the publicity to himself.

"There is a limit to what you believe and what you read," said Phipps. "I read where Mike Phipps did this and Mike Phipps did that. But Mike Phipps knows whether he did. And usually he didn't, at least, not by himself."
